Foreword

Academic success can be measured in many different ways, and I often tell my students that scoring high marks in exams is only one of the rewards from diligent study. The true measures of academic success should be the enjoyment of learning and the sense of accomplishment students get when that light flicks on in their head and they think to themselves, “So that’s why!” The inception of NTK’s study guides and publications is based on the simple goal of making students’ learning process more enjoyable and less complicated, and to deliver positive results from students’ efforts.

The SATs are a rite of passage for students planning to apply to universities in the United States. In addition to the SAT Reasoning Test, an increasing number of universities are placing more emphasis on the importance of SAT Subject Tests. High scores reflect a student’s focus and ability in specific subjects, and these are traits that elite universities think highly of. The SAT Chinese Subject Test has become increasingly popular since it was first administered in 1994, and is now the second most popular SAT language Subject Test. Its popularity also means that students’ Chinese language ability is becoming widely recognized by universities.

NTK’s SAT Chinese Subject Test Study Guide is specifically created for students who wish to excel on the test, and are looking for a no-nonsense guide that expertly helps them succeed and achieve top scores.

NTK’s study guides, courses and educational services are designed to help prepare students for exam success as they continue to pursue secondary and college education. As a leading educational service provider in Southeast Asia for more than a decade, NTK has helped thousands of students reach their academic goals. Whether they are in primary, secondary, or post-graduate studies, our students have benefited greatly from our specialized academic programs and expertise in all major international curricula and exams.

As you continue on your studies, I wish you every success and most importantly, I hope you enjoy the learning process as well.
